COMMISSION DECISION
of 25 February 2016
setting up a Scientific, Technical and Economic Committee for Fisheries
(2016/C 74/05)

THE EUROPEAN COMMISSION,

Having regard to the Treaty on the Functioning of the European Union,

Whereas:

(1) Article 43 of the Treaty assigned to the European Union and Member States the task of establishing the provisions necessary for the pursuit of the objectives of the Common Fisheries Policy (CFP).

(2) With a view to implement Union policy in the area of fisheries and aquaculture, the assistance of highly qualified scientific experts is required, particularly in the application of marine and fisheries biology, fishing gear technology, fisheries economics, fisheries governance, ecosystem effects of fisheries, aquaculture or similar disciplines, or in the field of collection, management and use of fisheries and aquaculture data.

(3) It is therefore necessary to set up a group of experts in the field of fisheries and aquaculture and to define its tasks and its structure. This assistance should be provided by a permanent Scientific, Technical and Economic Committee for Fisheries (STECF) set up by the Commission.

(4) The Commission should consult the STECF group in order to develop the CFP policy, where appropriate, on matters pertaining to the conservation and management of living marine resources, including biological, economic, environmental, social and technical considerations, in accordance with Article 26 of Regulation (EU) No 1380/2013. The advice of this group should be based on the principles of excellence, independence, impartiality and transparency.

(5) The STECF group should be composed of an appropriate number of members to perform the required tasks. Members of the group should be highly qualified, specialised, independent experts selected on the basis of objective criteria and through a public call for applications. They are appointed in their personal capacity and provide the Commission with opinions that are necessary for the implementation of the Common Fisheries Policy. It is essential that the group makes best use of external expertise from within and outside the Union as necessary to answer specific questions.

(6) The Commission could not reach fully Union policy objectives for conservation and sustainable exploitation of fisheries resources without the specific STECF group’s substantial contributions. The Common Fisheries Policy requires that the decision-making is based on the best available scientific advice. In order to fulfil this requirement, the Commission policy proposals must be based on the best available science. The STECF group evaluates and provides the latest available scientific data to provide the Commission with sound and timely evidence-based scientific advice for the implementation and monitoring of the EU Common Fisheries Policy. The STECF advice is explicitly required among others pursuant to Articles 2(5a); 3(c), 6(2), 9(1 and 5), 10(2a and 3), 11(3), 15 (4(b) and 5(c)) 18(2, 3 and 5), 28 (2a), 29(2 and 4), 31(4) of Regulation (EU) No 1380/2013. STECF advise is also provided for in multi-annual management plans, measures relating to landing obligations, mixed fisheries management, the position of the Union at international fisheries organisations as well as sustainable fisheries partnership agreements with third countries. Therefore, these independent experts should receive special allowances beyond reimbursement of expenses, which is proportionate to the particular tasks attributed to them and in line with international standards.

The requirement for the provision of the best available scientific advice also applies to the responsibilities of the members of the STECF group supporting Commission services by providing scientific input at meetings in regional as well as international context that are part of the legislative process pursuant to Article 18 of Regulation (EU) No 1380/2013, whereby on the basis of the outcomes of such meetings the Member States provide to the Commission joint recommendations based on the best available scientific advice serving as the base for adoption of delegated or implementing acts. The Commission is responsible for facilitating the cooperation between Member States and relevant scientific bodies, among which STECF plays a predominant role. Therefore, the work of the STECF group effectively contributes to attainment of the objectives of the Common Fisheries Policy.

Rules on disclosure of information by members of the group should be laid down.

Personal data should be processed in accordance with Regulation (EC) No 45/2001 of the European Parliament and of the Council (1).

Members of the group previously appointed should continue to stay in office until the new members are appointed.

Commission Decision 2005/629/EC (2) should be repealed.

Article 3

The Commission may require the adoption of such an opinion within a defined period. In agreement with the Commission services the group may also provide opinions on its own initiative to the Commission on such matters.

2. The chair of the group may advise the Commission to consult the group on a specific question.

Article 4

1. The group shall be composed of not less than 30 members and not more than 35 members.

3. Members shall be appointed by the Director-General of DG Maritime Affairs and Fisheries from experts with competence in the areas referred to in Article 2 and Article 3(1), and who have responded to the call for applications. The appointment shall include the date when members shall start their term of office. When defining the composition of the group, the Commission shall aim at ensuring, as far as possible, gender balance and a balanced geographical distribution which reflects the diversity of fisheries and aquaculture within the Union, taking into account the outcome of the selection procedure.

4. Members are appointed for three years. They shall remain in office until the end of their term of office, unless they are replaced in accordance with paragraph 6. Their term of office may be renewed. In case the replacement or renewal of the group members has not taken place on the date of the expiry of the three-year period, the members of the group shall remain in office until their replacement or the renewal.

In particular, the Commission services shall require those experts to submit a declaration of interests (‘DOI form’) and a curriculum vitae, as part of the application procedure. The DOI form shall consist of a series of questions requesting experts to disclose any interest relevant to the subject of the work to be performed. Submission of a duly completed DOI form shall be necessary in order for an individual to be appointed as a member of the group. The declarations of interests shall be made publicly available, as long as the experts in question are members of the group.

2. If the responsible Commission service concludes that, in light of the assessment of DOIs, no conflict of interest exists, the expert in question may be appointed in a personal capacity, provided he/she possesses the expertise required.

3. Members shall be required to inform the competent Commission services as soon as there is any change in the information previously provided, in which case they would be required to submit immediately a newly completed DOI form describing relevant changes.

The sub-groups shall consist of at least two group members and external experts. Sub-groups shall report to the group within a given time frame in accordance with those terms of reference. Such sub-groups shall be disbanded as soon as their mandate is fulfilled.
